Dear Exhibitor:

For 112 consecutive years, Annual Conference at Auburn University’s College of Veterinary has provided cutting edge continuing education and professional networking opportunities for Southeastern veterinarians and Auburn alumni, faculty, veterinary technicians, and students. In 2018, the college rebranded Annual Conference by moving it to the fall, when the new academic year and football season rejuvenates visitors and creates a unique learning environment as they come to the Auburn campus. The 2018 conference was a great success, due in part to enthusiastic corporate sponsorship, and the conference committee is working diligently to expand and build on the foundation established last fall. This year, we again will host both Annual Conference and our well-established J.T. Vaughan Equine Conference concurrently, allowing for a larger number of veterinary professionals to participate in the event.

I’m pleased to invite you to join us for the 112th Annual Conference & J.T Vaughan Equine Conference from October 17-20, 2019. The 2019 program will once again be held at The Hotel at Auburn University and Dixon Conference Center in the heart of the Auburn University campus. This location provides us with updated, well equipped meeting rooms for our CE courses. Additionally, the 2019 Exhibit Hall will be located in the Grand Ballroom, a 5,000+ square foot space which accommodates food and drink set up in a way that encourages traffic flow through the booths.

Lecture topics for this year’s program include dermatology, neurology, feline infectious diseases, endocrine, pain management and anesthesia, equine dentistry, opioid use and control, and more. We are excited to have a lineup of nationally renowned guest lecturers including Dr. Michael Lappin from Colorado State University, Dr. Sheila Robertson from the University of Florida, Dr. Simon Platt from the University of Georgia, and Dr. Brad Tanner, veterinarian at Rood & Riddle Equine Hospital.

We understand how valuable your time and marketing commitments are, and we have designed our program and social events with that in mind. The Exhibit Hall will open Thursday, October 17, with an evening welcome reception, providing time for veterinarians, their guests, and our exhibitors to socialize. We will also host a Back to College social event at the College of Veterinary Medicine on Saturday, immediately following the completion of our continuing education program. Exhibitors and sponsors are encouraged to join conference attendees at the college for a meal, tours of the teaching hospital, and additional social time activities.

We have several sponsorship opportunities to complement a standard exhibit booth. This is a great way to take advantage of additional recognition and advertising for your company. A complimentary exhibit booth is included with sponsorship commitments of $5,000 or more. Sponsorship levels and benefits are listed in this prospectus for your review.

To ensure that your company name will appear in the printed program and any pre-conference advertising, please complete and submit the registration form no later than August 1, 2019. Options are available for online, email, or mail-in registration.

We sincerely appreciate your ongoing support, and we hope you will plan to join us at the 2019 Annual Conference. If you have any questions, please contact Meredith Smildsin in the Continuing Education and Outreach office at 334.844.2497 or annualconference@vetmed.auburn.edu.

Sincerely,
