

Southeastern Raptor Center Post-COVID Presentation Policies

- Beginning on Wednesday, July 1 the Southeastern Raptor Center (SRC) will resume educational presentations.
- Due to the limited ability to maintain a 6' separation on tours, this will be limited to individuals who live in the same household.
 - Individuals coming for a tour will not be allowed inside the office.
 - You can bring educational items outside and have ready to show tour, but guests will not be allowed to touch any of the items.
- Groups containing individuals from multiple households, even if less than 25 people, will be allowed to have an amphitheater presentation.
- Seats at amphitheater are ~1.5' wide. However to make it easier we will tell guests to keep 6 seats between them and individuals that do not live with them.
 - With complete social distancing, the amphitheater can fit 30 people.
 - If multiple people reside in the same home, that number could be slightly more.
 - There is also plenty of grassy areas to stand or sit.
 - Due to the limited space and Auburn University's guidance, we will not allow more than 50 people in the amphitheater through October 10.
- In accordance with Auburn University policy, all visitors to the SRC through October 10 will:
 - Provide their name, telephone number, and email address
 - Wear face masks throughout entire visit
 - Have their temperature taken
- At this time, facemasks will be required to be worn by SRC individuals at all times during presentations. This includes both on and offsite presentations.
- If we are traveling offsite, it is up to the client to determine their policies for guests attending their event.
- SRC representatives will not handle guest's phones to take photos. If guests want to take a photo of them "with" the bird, they will need to stand 6' in front of the bird and take a "selfie."

*Policies were created with guidance from Auburn University's Medical Director and looking at policies from Association of Zoos and Aquarium (AZA) facilities.
