

The Internal Medicine Service provides state-of-the-art care to animals with complex medical conditions. A team of animal health care providers conduct diagnostic testing and provide cutting-edge treatment for patients with conditions of the respiratory system, gastrointestinal tract, pancreas, liver, urinary tract, blood and lymphatics, endocrine system, and immune system and with infectious diseases.

College of Veterinary Medicine

AUBURN UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF
VETERINARY MEDICINE

BAILEY SMALL ANIMAL TEACHING HOSPITAL

1220 Wire Road
Auburn, AL 36849

Hours: 7:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.
24/7 availability for emergencies.

Phone (including emergencies):
334-844-4690

www.vetmed.auburn.edu

Auburn University is an equal opportunity educational institution/employer.

INTERNAL MEDICINE

BAILEY SMALL ANIMAL
TEACHING HOSPITAL

AUBURN UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF
VETERINARY MEDICINE

WHAT WE DO

Animals referred to the Internal Medicine Service often have a complex disease, multiple simultaneous illnesses or require specialized diagnostic testing. Our team is experienced in the management of challenging cases and is equipped with advanced diagnostic equipment and a team approach to therapy.

We always work to balance the multiple needs of a patient to improve quality of life. To ensure the best care possible, clinicians may consult with other services within the Wilford and Kate Bailey Small Animal Teaching Hospital. Our patients' comfort and well-being are our priority.

HOW WE DO IT

The Internal Medicine Service has access to state-of-the-art equipment and techniques for diagnosis and treatment, including:

- Ultrasonography
- Fluoroscopy
- Computed tomography (CT)-
24/7 access for emergencies
- Magnetic resonance imaging (MRI)-
24/7 access for emergencies
- Rhinoscopy
- Bronchoscopy
- Gastroduodenoscopy
- Colonoscopy
- Cystoscopy
- Vaginoscopy
- Intermediate or intensive care wards
with 24/7 nursing

WHO WE ARE

The Internal Medicine Service is composed of four faculty members who are board-certified by the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine. Additionally, the service has four residents, a specialty intern and two veterinary technicians. Rotating interns and residents in other specialties may also be on the Internal Medicine Service at different times as part of their training.

The Bailey Small Animal Teaching Hospital is one of the nation's leading medical facilities for animal health care, while also providing hands-on clinical education to senior-level students enrolled in the College of Veterinary Medicine. The 208,000-square-foot facility is one of the largest and most technologically-advanced teaching and referral hospitals in the country.

APPOINTMENTS

Appointments can be made by referral from your primary care veterinarian. At the time of referral they will be asked to provide copies of previous tests and reports. We also accept referrals directly from owners. All referrals to the Wilford and Kate Bailey Small Animal Teaching Hospital require appointments. For more information on appointments, go online to www.vetmed.auburn.edu.