

The Art of Discovery: A One Health Community Exhibit

Science seeks to understand the world. Art helps us see it in new ways.

Explore a unique collection of original artwork created by members of the Auburn University and One Health community. Featuring photography, painting, drawing, fiber arts, mixed media, and more, this exhibit celebrates the creativity that fuels curiosity, innovation, and discovery.

Original works by scientists, educators, students, and professionals

Celebrating the intersection of science, creativity, and curiosity

Inspired by the connections among people, animals, plants, and the environment

Discover how creativity and science work together to inspire new perspectives on One Health.
